- 1. C 89-115, Steve Pike, Nonregistrant

C. STAFF ACTION: INFORMATION

NONREGISTRANT CASES: The Board has the authority to seek criminal prosecution when nonregistrants violate Board statutes. Upon receipt of information that a nonregistrant might be engaged in, advertising or using the title, architect, assayer, engineer, geologist, land surveyor or landscape architect, a preliminary inquiry is performed. Normally, when the alleged violation is a first offense, a Notice of Violation (NOV) is dispatched. The NOV is used to inform the nonregistrant of existing statutes and effect corrective action. When corrective action is taken the file is closed. Should the nonregistrant fail to comply with Board statutes or should the nonregistrant commit repetitive violations, after being apprised of the existing statutes, prosecution is normally sought. Since November 1, 1990, thirty-three (33) cases have been opened against nonregistrants. The following information breakout involved the categories of registration listed.

Note: Some cases may involve more than one category.
